CHARLIE BROWN AND HIS FRIENDS

"PEANUTS characters by Deland-Weldon Sr. High Staff with apologies to Charles M. Schulz - C United Feature Syndicate, Inc. (1950,1951,1952,1954,1959,1961,1963,1965, and 1966).

Dedication

To a dedicated teacher and an inspiring coach who through his untiring efforts led the EAGLES to championship in the conference.

He makes mathematics challenging, plots outstanding plays for the basketball team, encourages his track boys to go that extra mile, and is a friend and inspiration to his students.

The Annual Staff, with respect and admiration for his abilities and high moral standards, dedicates the 1967-68 EAGLE to Mr. Jim Bader.

Many of the events of the 1967-1968 school year were brought to mind as the Eagle staff looked at some pictures included in this yearbook. Some were funny but others brought a painful twinge as we recalled a not-so-happy moment. It is our hope that the 1968 Eagle will help you recall the "characters" and their antics that made this year so memorable.

Board of Education

These seven men of the 1968 Board of Education strived this year to make our educational facilities more adequate and sufficient. We should all appreciate their work. STANDING: Duane Riddle, Ronnie Edwards, Howard Gantz, Lester Baker. SEATED: Franklin Kingston, secretary; Robert Moberly, President; John Leischner.

Superintendent, Mr. Jack Salmon

To the Students,

In these trying and tense times what ideas, beliefs and values should one generation hope to pass to the next? What will happen to the Class of '68 between now and 1978 no one can say with any certainty at all, but we do know there will be problems to solve—personal, political, and social (not to mention the interplanetary problems).

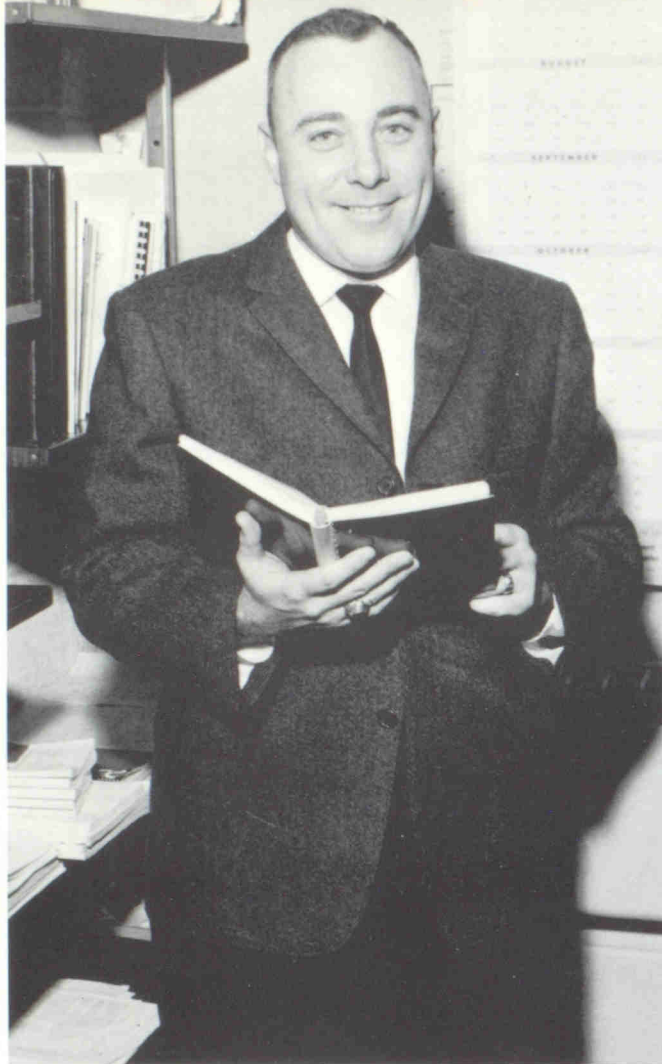

If, by example, teachers and parents can communicate the absolute need for intelligent use of all man's resources, his brain, his heart, his hands and his technology, it is more than possible this will be an adequate inheritance to pass on to each succeeding generation.

Hope for mankind is possible if man uses his intelligence, if his values are sound, and if his beliefs are based on truth. Each generation must discover truth in its own way, but hope is transmitted from one generation to the next.

Secretary, Mrs. Marie White

Principal, Mr. Robert Bowen

To the Students,

There are two basic parts to being a successful member of our society. The first is being happy, satisfied, and self-sufficient as a person. The second is being a contributing member to society in the areas of productive economics, government, and the welfare of others. You can accomplish one or the other and still not be a successful member of our society.

At DeLand-Weldon High School, we cannot give you either ingredient to becoming this successful member of society, but we can offer you the opportunity of learning to develop the above mentioned ingredients. Notice I say "the opportunity of learning to develop." The learning and developing are up to the student, not the teacher or the parent.

If you are a senior, I sincerely hope you have learned to successfully develop happiness, satisfaction, self-sufficiency, ability to produce economically, welfare toward others, and governmental action. You should realize that, for a successful citizen, this learning to develop never ceases.

Underclassmen need to grasp the opportunity of learning to develop the ingredients for success. The future demands on citizens will be greater than we can even conceive at this moment. To survive as a successful citizen will take more and more earnest work and thought.

I hope you all are the successful citizens I have described above. Our future depends on it.

Thank you for the 1967-68 school year.

Classes

Mr. Gregory and his Freshman ag. boys working in their books during second hour.

Steve Gantz and Chris Riddle in Agriculture II.

FFA and Industrial Arts

Mike Smith hears from Mr. Schluter about Industrial Arts class.

FFA

The purpose for which this chapter is formed is to develop competent, aggressive, rural and agricultural leadership. Farm production, agricultural mechanics, and related occupations are taught in the agriculture classes.

Industrial Arts

Industrial arts involves many interesting skills such as working with sheet metals, plastics, electricity, plaster, leather crafts, and rug looms.

Home Economics

Mrs. Leischner teaches the Home Ec. classes at D-W High School.

Science

The science classes at DeLand-Weldon learned the importance of experimenting. Although much knowledge was gained from the lectures of Mr. Edman and Mr. Erickson, the students were able to see scientific reactions during experiments. This enabled them to test the theories they had learned.

English and French

Language, whether French or English, is one of the important means of communication. Mrs. Hudson taught the College Prep course for Seniors and the Junior English classes. Mr. Woodress taught French and English. Mr. Lantay taught one class of Sophomore English. Because of their time and effort, we go on into the world better educated.

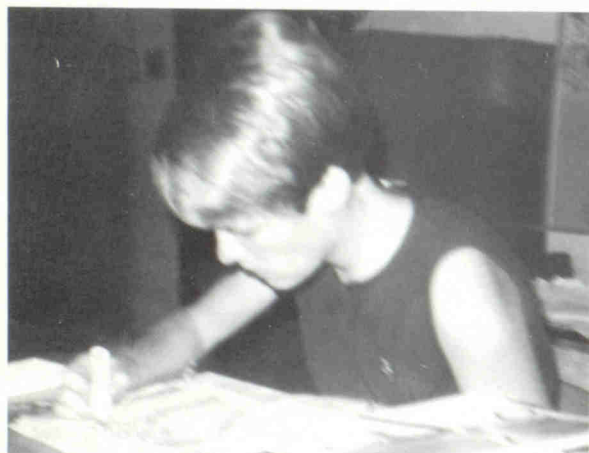

Coach Dobbs teaches the students how to drive.

Drivers Education

Mrs. Seal taught art to the high school would-be artists.

Art

History is both as old as the ages and as young as the current political campaigns. A study of history includes learning about people and places and how they affected events that have occurred. To study events that have happened to gain a better understanding of the world of tomorrow is a principal aim of the history courses. History instructors at DWHS were Mrs. Imig, Mrs. Huehner and Mr. Lantay.

Social Sciences

Expanding business and industry are an important part of the world of tomorrow. The key to this ever expanding world is learning how to operate the new machines, how to program these machines, and how to use the information these machines provide. The development of these skills to help the student after he is out of school is the main objective of the business department. Mrs. Houser and Mrs. Henricks taught Business Education.

Business Education

Math

The Mathematics Department branched out to three different teachers this year. Mr. Blue taught the basics of Geometry and Practical Math to his students. Algebra I and II, and Advanced Math were taught by Mr. Bader. With a combined effort from Mrs. Houser and Mr. Bader, the MBA class arranged a "Computer Match-Up."

Physical Education

Physical education classes are taught by Coach Dobbs and Coach Erickson for the boys, Mrs. Trigg and Mrs. Houser for the girls.

The Eagles successfully defended their conference co-championship crown by again posting a 4-1 record. Their only conference loss was a heart-breaker to LeRoy. Overall they had a 7-2 record.

The Eagles were a hitting club as well as a great defensive unit. Losing only these four starters to graduation, next year's baseball team could help to fulfill the dream of a four-sport sweep in the Conference.

In Memoriam

But you are gone forever. You are gone
Forever like the moment when the rain
Has ceased. And long before each separate dawn
The needles of sharp longing cause new pain.
I rise and dress and breathe, remembering
Your secret heart held thoughts I never knew.
All your lost words confront me with one ring
Of clarity. I bend and tie a shoe,
I slowly brush my hair, I close a drawer.
The words I speak hurt with a sudden flame.
I find the morning paper at the door,
I mouth each word; my speech is slow and lame.
I tend to things I always did before,
Performing them as if they were the same.

We, The Senior Class of 1968, in order to form a happier student body, establish seniority, insure fond memories, provide a new source of happiness, promote good-times, and secure our "wildness" for future classes, do ordain and establish this Will this Fifteenth day of May, nineteen hundred and sixty-eight.

- I, Sherri Anderson, will my love for badminton and volleyball talent to my sisters, Vicki and Peggy, in hopes they can do more with them than I did.
- I, Lynn Atterberry, will my 1947 Chevy to Chris Riddle.
- I, Michael Brennan, will my weight and muscles to Kenny New.
- I, Charlie Brown, will my booming auctioneering voice to Mrs. Belcher in hopes of controlling noon-hour study hall.
- I, David Edwards, will my car troubles to Doug Lowery.
- I, Sonny Etherton, will my slim figure to Ed Selock.
- I, Jody Fisher, will mine and Ronnies' 427 Caprice to Larry Cothorn.
- I, Steve Gaines, will my black book and bank account to Jerry Halcomb in hopes he does as good as I have.
- I, Martha Gay, will my music ability to Gretchen.
- I, Bill Grant, will all my Brenda Barr pictures to Rodney Foster.
- I, Shirley Haggard, will my weight problem to JoAnn Swartz.
- I, Dick Helton, will my size 13 track shoes to Curt Parrish.
- I, Steve Hogan, will my Pink Panther album to Raymond Cook.
- I, Cherene Kingston, will my great volleyball ability to Barb Foltz who needs the height.
- I, Fran Lane, will my patience and even temper to Norma Sizemore.
- I, Mike Leisner, will my coordination and my baseball ability to Curt Parrish, as he needs both very badly.
- I, Linda Manning, will my shorthand speed to Nancy Duggins.
- I, Vicki Mitchell, will my long hair and pierced ears to Chris Riddle or Bill Carter, whoever wants them most.
- I, Roger Moody, will my good luck to Peg Anderson.
- I, Ray Murphy, will my ingrown toenail to Linda Richards.
- I, Paula Parrish, will my long hair and the problems of growing it to Markie Meyer.
- I, Lois Persons, will my ability to assign yearbook pages to Nan Riddle in hopes she will get along with the junior staff.
- I, Ellen Poff, will my ability not to get kicked out of classes to Dale Richards.
- I, Deb Robinson, will my love for chicken to Jeff Hogan.
- I, Debbie Shofner, will my reckless driving to Bill Carter, Bill Leischner, Mike Tedrick, and Chris Riddle.
- I, Dale Smith, will my ability to learn basketball plays to Curt Parrish.
- I, Martha Smith, will my long, sexy bangs to Vicki Anderson in hopes of beautifying America.
- I, Mike Smith, will my twin sister to John.
- I, Harry Swearingen, will my '57 black Ford to Randy Wilson.
- I, Betty Trigg, will my ability to play the piano to Mrs. Huehner.
- I, Gerald Trimble, will my ability to drive safely to Lanette Burton.
- I, Judy Turner, Will my height to Steve Gantz.
- I, Tamera West, will my beautiful soprano voice to Doug Lowery in hopes that it will improve his singing ability.
- I, Terry West, will my Rambler to anyone who wants to trade.
- I, Danny Wikoff, will my long legs to Bill Carter.
- I, Gary White, will my ability not to foul out of basketball games to Paul Massey who might need it.
- I, Julie Wisegarver, will my statistics to Brenda Barr.
- I, Sheila Wisegarver, will my art appreciation to Gerry Brock.

Senior Trip

"Count off! 1 . . . 2 . . . 37 and Al makes 38. Let's go." The Class of '68 became quite familiar with these phrases on their class trip to Florida. The class toured St. Augustine, Rock City, Marineland, Cypress Gardens, and Silver Springs, as well as Daytona Beach.

Would you believe they went out to eat and shop during a hurricane? Would you believe the class got drenched everytime they left their rooms at Daytona? Would you believe they got lost in Tennessee? Yes, it's all true. Other interesting tidbits include a shaving cream fight among the boys, a few people getting thrown into the swimming pool, and several loud yells from the chaperone's room? Despite the weather, would you believe the class is ready to go back again?
